An unusually light vote was cast in the borough at Tuesday's election and in but one ward, the Fourth, did the voters turn out in anything like the usual numbers. It was the spirited contest for Council that brought them out in that ward. F. O. Goodwin, one of the Democratic candidates for Council, will contest the election in the Fourth, he said at noon today, "on general principles and illegal voting."

The Democratic vote fell far short of the usual numbers, while the Prohibitionists dropped to fourth place, being led in the totals by the Socialists. Comparatively few straight tickets were cast. The independent spirit of the citizens is being more plainly manifested at each succeeding election and those who say that under the Baker law it is hard to split a ticket, will have to admit that some efficient "splitting" was done Tuesday. In the Fourth Ward alone there were 357 split tickets, while only 13 Democrats in the First voted straight. Squire Frank Miller made an excellent run for Justice of the Peace, winning out over W. D. Colborn, the Democratic aspirant, by 54 votes. Miller carried the First and Second Wards, while Colborn took the other two, but not by enough margin to win in the total count. Colborn fully expected to carry the Second by a safe margin, but lost it by 34. However, he made a splendid run.

Where contests were on the vote was surprisingly close. In the Second and Fourth every single vote had its effect and in many instances the result was not known until the last vote was counted. There was but one contest on in the First, that for School Director. William H. Brown, the Democratic candidate, came out ahead by nine votes, although Miller carried the ward by 114.

The fight for both Council and School Director in the Second Ward was especially bitter. Rev. J. J. Huston, a Republican candidate, and Frank Friel, Democrat, won. Between Huston, Friel, Smith and Brannon there was a difference of but four votes, the last two being tied with 131 votes each. Friel drew 134 and Huston 133. For School Director in this ward, Frank O'Connor, Jr., defeated Robert Welsh, the present Democratic incumbent, by a vote of 145 to 127. This was a surprise, for it was generally reported up to a few days ago in the Ward that Welsh would win out.

There was practically no contest on in the Third Ward except for School Director. W. D. McGinnis, the Democratic candidate, had 36 votes more than J. A. Lyon, Republican. The Third surprised everyone, however, when a Republican election board won out, possibly for the first time in its history.

The Fourth Ward was the battlefield of the day and there was a fight on from the time the polls opened until they closed. The activity of the Democratic candidates for Council was chiefly the cause of this. Both D. F. Girard and F. O. Goodwin made a thorough canvass of this ward and as a consequence the Democratic vote turned out in full strength. The Republicans were active, but overconfidence helped pull down the ward's normally republican majority. Many Republicans split their tickets, voting for a republican and a Democrat. Girard ran ahead of the other candidates, receiving 242 votes, with James B. Millard, Republican, second with 212. Goodwin drew 210 and D. K. Dilworth, Republican, but 169. J. C. Lytle, a former Republican Councilman, lost out to L. L. West, the Democratic candidate, for Assessor.

It is possible that more interest was taken in the election bourds this spring than ever before. For the first time in many years, if not in the history of the borough, every ward has a Republican board. In the Second and Third, where the Democrats have controlled the board for many years, the Republicans won out. This was unusually surprising in the Third Ward, where the Democratic majority is usually high.

William R. Scott, Democratic candidate for Auditor, won out by the narrow margin of one vote over J. Clyde Whiteley. The candidates for Auditor usually depend upon the rest of the ticket to pull them through, but while the borough went Republican, Scott was enabled to win by this slight majority.

F. O. Goodwin stated to a reporter for The Courier at noon that he intends to contest the election in the Fourth Ward. The grounds for this contest have not yet been fully decided upon, but there will be several reasons. It will, very likely, be contested "on general principles and illegal votes," Mr. Goodwin said. Goodwin claims that about 20 Italians were permitted to vote who did not even have naturalization papers, and the same privilege was also extended, he says, to people who do not even live in the ward. He also claims that some men were allowed to vote on age who are about "50 years old."

There were a number of disputed ballots in the Fourth Ward and there was also some pretty gingery talk during the count. At least fifty outsiders gathered in the room with the Election Board and nearly all of them had something to say about how the votes should be counted. This fact may also figure in the contest if one is made. A contest, however, would not likely change the result in any way.

While the Democrats have an apparent majority in Council of five to three, there will undoubtedly be a change in the organization as it has stood the past two years. D. F. Girard in the Fourth and Friel in the Second, the two Democrats elected, were nominated and elected on an independent platform. The organization of Council the first of March will be no cut and dried affair as it has been in the past.

W. W. Smith will abide by the election board in the Second in that ward an element made an effort to hold up the two Republican candidates for Council for money. Dr J. J. Huston tells the following story: "The night before election as Mr. Smith and myself were leaving the Smith House George Smith, a well known colored man, came to us and offered to deliver fourteen colored votes in the Second Ward for $2.50 each. We turned down his proposition in most emphatic terms. Yesterday Smith was at the polls all day and worked against us."

Result in New Haven.

For split tickets, the election in New Haven Tuesday probably broke all records. The Republicans, who have always heretofore polled 100 or more straight tickets, had to content themselves with 13, while the Democrat had but 22. Provance Buttermore, who was on the Democratic and Citizens tickets for Justice of the Peace, was elected over Jacob Morgan, the Republican candidate.

The vote for Council given below shows how the ballots were split. Jasper E. Johnson, who was on the Citizens ticket with John Duggan, drew five votes from that source, while John Duggan, on the same ticket, got 196 and was elected. Edgar Cyphor, a Democrat, was the other man elected, getting 185 votes. Henry Boyd, a candidate for School Director on the Republican ticket, got more votes than any of his companions, getting 198. The combination vote of C. H. Bailey, running for School Director as a Republican, Democrat and Citizen, put him way ahead and he received a total of 224. Jacob Morgan was elected Judge of Election on the Republican ticket, defeating Holland Piersol, the Democratic aspirant.

The detailed vote in Connellsville was as follows:

FOUR PROPERTIES ARE INSPECTED.

HE IS NOT FULLY SATISFIED.

Official Will Be Here Until This Evening and Would Like Very Much to Have Other Locations Offered—The Price Will Likely Cause a Hitch.

James P. Low, the Treasury official who is here looking at possible sites for the location of a public building, will not leave town until this evening. Tuesday morning and afternoon he, in company with Postmaster Clark Collins, visited the four sites that have already been mentioned, but Mr Low is anxious to see more before leaving, if any are offered.

The four sites offered were by Dunn & Aaron, for the Christian Snyder property on Apple stret; the Newmyer and Wallace properties, corner of Apple and Arch streets; Col. J. M. Reid's lots on Peach street, and the property of the Shibley heirs, directly opposite the lots of Col. Reid.

The Newmyer and Wallace properties on Apple street are among the most satisfactory, but the price is entirely too high for the appropriation, which only amounts to $20,000. The Dunn & Aaron lot is not on two streets, as required by the appropriation.

Mr Low would not state what decision he had reached, and this will not be known until he makes his report to the Postoffice Department. These same sites were visited some months ago by Sid. H. Nealey of the Postoffice Department.

HAS LOST CONFIDENT MANNER.

District Attorney Attempts to Break Down the Little Artists' Model's Story of Her Ruin in the Gilded Studio of Stanford White

Publishers' Press Telegram.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Tension was at a high point about the Thaw trial room this morning, everybody believing that a crisis in the case is at hand. The import of District Attorney Jerome's cross-examination of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was not to be overestimated. Upon it the final decision of the jury, to a great measure, will depend, for it will settle whether the story told by the girl wife will stand and many believe Thaw's life really hangs by this thread.

Court convened at 10.30 o'clock. Evelyn was the first witness called and Jerome resumed his cross-examination. She betrayed her agitation by evidence of nervousness. It was seen she was prepared to use a woman's weapon, tears, against Jerome's attacks.

District Attorney Jerome produced a number of photographs of Evelyn when she was an artists' model, questioning her as to when they were taken. He further questioned her about posing for artists and photographers before and after coming to New York. Evelyn declared that she never posed where more of her body was exposed than her arms and shoulders.

Jerome then plunged into an examination regarding letters the witness had received from White. Of these there were a large number. She had given them to Thaw and in turn gave them to Attorney Hartridge.

At 11.40 Jerome began to cross-examine Evelyn in the story of her ruin and tried to make her admit discrepancies as to the time of night.

Jerome reverted but a moment to the night in White's studio, where Evelyn testified that White accomplished her ruin. Spectators strained forward with earnestness, but were doomed to disappointment. Jerome merely tried to catch Evelyn in the question as to time and, meeting with little success, dropped the subject. Recess was ordered at 12.30 until two o'clock this afternoon.

ORGANIZATION WON.

John E. Rayburn Was Elected the Mayor of Philadelphia.

WILL HAVE PLURALITY OF 35,000

And It May Increase Today As the Final Returns Are Counted—Republican Organization Has Control of Both Branches of Council.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb 20.—Congressman John E. Rayburn, Republican, was elected Mayor over William Potter, City Party and Democratic candidate yesterday by a plurality of 35,000 or more, probably more. Republicans carried not only their former strongholds, but gained heavily in localities where the so-called Independents have heretofore shown strength Republican managers claim that complete returns will increase Reyburn's plurality to 50,000.

In 90 per cent. of the wards the vote cast was remarkably heavy. There was comparatively little disorder at the polls. Such complaints as were filed were based on activity of officeholders in getting out the vote in their respective wards. Those complaints were lodged with Mayor Weaver. When the polls closed, Chairman Charles L. Brown, of the Republican City Committee, said that he stood by his original claim of 50,000 majority for the heads of the ticket.

Both Select and Common Councils will have large Republican majorities The only wards classed as doubtful are the Thirty-third, where John J. McKinley, Republican, opposed Dr. Harry B. Keech, Fusion candidate, for Select Council, and the Sixth Ward on Common Council. A heavy vote was polled in Mr. Reyburn's home ward the Fifteenth.

Briggs, Moore, Hughes and Scott, Republicans, were elected majority Magistrates, while the race between the minority Magistrates is very close, with the odds in favor of Gorman and Fitzpatrick.

Corristan and Michael Rafter, for three years, and Evans Rush and Cyrus Show for one year each, were elected School Directors on the Republican ticket over Adolphus Shipley, M. F Thorpe, J. W. Chuck and H. T. Holt, the Democratic nominees.

D. H. Horton and Albert Wolfe for three years and Irwin Bailey, one year, were elected to Council over Judson Wolfe, John W. Tressler and George Kurtz. Frank Bailey, three years, John E. Rush, two years, and Wm. R. Johnson, one year, were elected Auditors Charles Holt, the Democratic candidate, was the fourth man The Republican majorities averaged about 25 to 30 throughout the ticket.

FORREST HUFFE
With The Isle of Bong Bong, Tonight

"Innocent Maids."

A Pittsburg paper last week said of "The Innocent Maids," which appeared at the Academy and which will be at the Colonial tomorrow evening:

"A longestablished burlesque attraction is offered at the Academy in the "Innocent Maids" company, and it has been improved gradually to suit the liking of the burlesque patrons until it is good for a full house on all occasions. The "Maids" have been selected with an eye to good looks, and the management calls them "always a beauty show." The program includes the two intervals of pure foolishness and song, called "burlesques" and the usual list of vaudeville performers, who met with uniform success in the matter of applause Hill & Hill perform on bicycles; Sadie Husted sings; Smith & Champion, Hughes & Hazleton and the Saylons are all comedy sketch teams, and Horton & La Triska have a clown and doll act. Larry Smith the funny little Dutchman, is the expert laugh-maker of the burlesques.

"Tah-y-Wana."

Few persons of the thousands who have seen "The Squaw Man," which returns to the Colonial Theatre at an early date, have stopped to think that the Indian chieftain, Tahy-Wana, who is presented with such singular and startling fidelity in the play by J. M Colville, is but the theatrical representative of a famous character that lived and died during the Ute campaign in which General Nelson Miles figured some years ago. It was through his bravery and marvelous escape from most horrible death that aid was brought to General Miles from Fort Sill, 50 miles distant. Seven couriers who had been sent out were captured and killed.

Dainty, dancing, sweet-singing, sumptuous scenery clever comedians, extraordinary electrical effects, correct costumes, an engrossing plot and brilliant lyrics are said to be some of the features of B C. Whitney's "Isle of Bong Bong" that have assisted it to gain the enviable place it holds in the esteem of theatre goers This sparkling musical surprise has been sent on tour this season by Mr. Whitney in response to an urgent demand for it in all the cities it will visit, and he has equipped it in the sumptuous manner in which all his big musical productions are characterized. In the original groupings and ensemble numbers of this delightful satire, Gus Sohlke, Mr. Whitney's general stage director, is said to have exceeded himself, and a perfect presentation is promised "The Isle of Bong Bong" will be the attraction at the Colonial this evening

Orders Last Month at Jones & Laughlin Beat Record.

Demand for manufactured steel products has never been greater than at the present time, according to B. F. Jones, President of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, who declared yesterday that the orders of the last month exceeded those of any single month in the company's history.

All the plants are being taxed to their full capacity to meet the increased demand and the orders that are being received for future delivery will require a record-breaking output during the present year.

Tonsiline Cures Sore Throat

The throat is one of the most delicate parts of the body. It is also one of the most important, and should be given the best possible care

The throat is the gateway to the body. The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through it. It is very easily affected by cold, strain, exposure, etc., and Sore Throat is therefore one of our most common ailments Strangely enough, it is also one of the most neglected.

Sore Throat is a very serious matter, for the whole system is in danger in consequence of it.

Every Sore Throat patient is a candidate for Tonsilitis, Quinsy, Diphtheria and other serious or fatal diseases, all of which can positively be prevented by the timely cure of the Sore Throat by the use of TONSILINE.

If taken in time a dose or two will do it.

TONSILINE is made to cure throat diseases and nothing else. It is the one remedy for this purpose sold largely in the United States. Every user endorses it, every physician, knowing its virtues, commends it.

The one most important thing to remember about TONSILINE is the fact that it really does cure Sore Throat.

SAVING THE "BONES."

Dogs Give An Object Lesson in Thrift.

Did you ever watch a dog burying a bone? If you have, you probably realized that the poor dumb brute was giving an object lesson in thrift that mankind would do well to follow. A few "bones" put away snugly in some safe place—The First National Bank of this city, for instance—would prove a mighty handy thing to have in time of sickness or enforced idleness. Your dollars deposited in that strong institution are not only safe but increase at the rate of 4 per cent in terest.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Why Forty-five Women Died

During a single month forty-five women were reported to have died in the United States as the direct result of using "headache powders" The poisonous and powerful ingredients caused paralysis of the heart and nerves and death followed

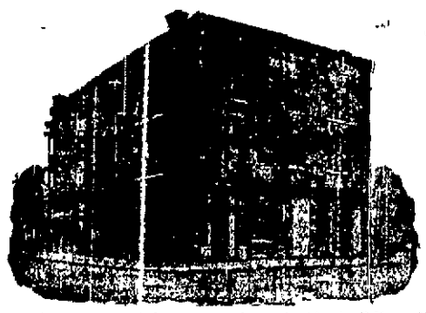

It is not difficult to understand that any drugs which have such hypnotic effects as to immediately stop pain are deadly in their action on the nervous system

In order to thoroughly cure headaches the nerves must be revitalized and built up, and there is no way this can be well be accomplished as by the use of Dr. A. W Chase's Nerve Pills, the great nerve restorative.

Dr. A W. Chase's Nerve Pills do not stop the headache, but cure it by removing the cause. They are not recommended as a relief for headache, but as a thorough and positive cure

Headache, sleeplessness, irritability, lack of energy and power to concentrate the mind, and all the symptoms of exhausted nerves disappear when this great restorative treatment is used Fifty cents a box, at all dealers or Dr A. W. Chase Medicine Co. Buffalo, N. Y.

THE ELECTIONS.

The elections yesterday in Connellsville and throughout the county showed a growth of independent voting that promises well for honest and business-like local government. There is no vital principle of politics involved in a borough or township election save only in the choice of election officers. If the dominant party in any district fails to nominate its good men for office, but presents instead men whose characters are not above suspicion or whose abilities are not up to the standard, the party must not expect the taxpayers to confirm its mistake.

A feature of the elections was the light vote polled in spite of the earnest nature of many of the contests. The lack of interest in the Uniform Primary seems to have foreshadowed the indifference to the election itself.

In Connellsville, the contest for Town Council seems to have exhausted itself at the primary polls, when the machine Democrats were utterly routed. The parties split evenly electing two Councilmen each, though the vote was very close in the Second Ward. The new Town Council is expected to shake out all the ring methods that have prevailed during the past several years and give the town a reform government with a proper claim to the title.

The School Board's reform element has been strengthened by the results of the election. The Nehemiahs will be securely intrenched on the Wall of Progress and with the proper effort will be able to keep incompetent teachers from climbing into the schools.

Upon the whole, the spring elections were highly satisfactory.

A LOST CAUSE.

The Tri-State telephone strike is incomprehensible. The company has voluntarily advanced the wages of its non-striking linemen and the announcement is made that they are now paid better wages than any similar set of workmen in this section. Yet we are informed that the linemen's strike is still on, and we are reminded of the fact every now and then by the news of wire-cutting and similar depredations.

The continued strike of the linemen's union is doing harm rather than good to organized labor, and it is evident that the sooner it is called off the better it will be for all concerned. The support of a lost cause is improvident on the part of a labor organization, oppressive to its contributing membership and a lean living to the strikers themselves.

The folly of any lost cause is supreme. Energies and ammunition should not be fruitlessly expended, but should be saved for another and more favorable opportunity.

THE GARBAGE QUESTION.

The Town Council seems to be fully alive to the importance of the garbage furnace, but evidently wants to go slowly in the matter and go right. That is commendable, but while care should be exercised dalliance should be avoided. Official dalliance means public damnation.

The suggestion to erect a municipal furnace instead of contracting with private interests for the disposal of the town's refuse will have to be first considered with reference to the financial ability of the borough to do the work.

But it must not be forgotten, in the consideration of this question, that garbage collection is quite as important to the town as garbage disposal, and that provision should be effectively made as much for the one as for the other.

The present system of collecting garbage is about as poor as it could possibly be. Few people keep properly closed cans and many do not keep them at all. Garbage collections are irregular, sloppy and expensive. The borough could do the work at a lower cost to the taxpayers and at the same time compel them all to live up to sanitary regulations. It is a serious question whether the suggestion of the health authorities, that the borough levy a garbage tax and take over the whole system of garbage collection and disposal, is not the wisest proposition from every point of view. Its adoption will mean the expense of proper equipment, which should include a supply of cans sufficient to enable the collectors to leave a freshly cleansed can when they take away the full one, and this expense should be figured in with the whole proposition. If it is found that the sum the borough is able to set aside for the garbage furnace and collection equipment will not cover both, then the collection proposition should receive first consideration if a reasonable contract can be made with private interests for the construction and operation of the furnace.

If the Town Council will remember that sanitation is the prime consideration in treating the garbage question, they will be able to appreciate the importance of the question in all its phases.

COUNCILMEN'S SALARIES.

From time immemorial, the Town Councilmen have voted themselves a salary of $25 per annum, but nobody ever knew where they got their authority for the practise. They occupy the same relation to the people as the School Board does, and yet the latter has never thought to vote its members any pay.

They were a bold set of Town Councilmen who first voted themselves salaries. They believed the laborer was worthy of his hire, and they had the courage of their convictions. Their successors have not displayed so much bravery, else they would vote themselves more. The duties of the Councilmen have multiplied with the years and the values of everything have advanced wonderfully.

If the members of the Town Council are entitled to any salary, they should be paid a just remuneration, certainly a sum bearing the same relation to the original salary as it bore to the work and the times when it was fixed.

THE COUNTY TAX RATE.

There will be no change in the county tax rate.

We can well understand why this should be so if it is true, as reported, that the valuations of some wards and districts are less this year than they were three years ago, in spite of a palpable presence of new construction, a substantial increase in realty prices and an undeniable growth in values.

There is something radically wrong with the assessments that show up such ridiculous footings as these, and it is the duty of the County Commissioners to look well into them.

NOT IN WRONG.

The trouble over connections with private sewers proves the wisdom of the early establishment of public sewerage systems. One of the first duties in founding a town should be the construction of a sanitary sewer system. It should be laid with the foundation and as a part of it, for in fact it is a very important part.

Connellsville didn't get into the game early enough, and when it did it got in wrong. Had Town Council adhered to the original proposition, to assess the cost of sewers on abutting property, the town would not have been burdened with so much debt, and we would now be in better shape to make other much-needed public improvements.

Senator Walton of Greene county has introduced a bill forbidding narrow-gauge railways from charging a higher rate of freight than those of standard gauge. The bill is intended to regulate Wayne-sburg and Washington traffic rates but it might result in widening the distance between the rails, only that and nothing more.

The Pittsburg trolley companies say they won't transport freight. Just now they cannot take proper care of their passengers and could not carry freight. But if the East End subway is built, the surface cars might go into the express and delivery business. They wouldn't have much else to do.

Baseball is lining up. It will be among the first blossoms of spring, ever young and ever fair, but tender never.

The accidental deaths reported in Connellsville for the last year were 41. This would indicate that Connellsville is an extra-hazardous place in which to live. The figures, however, must be taken with some allowance. Forty of the deaths were from accidents happening in the mines and on the railways in different parts of the coke region. The victims died in the Connellsville hospital.

The split ticket was quite fashionable.

The typhoid scare of last summer footed up in round figures just twenty-five cases with three deaths.

The Uniontown Herald man has only been in the place for a few weeks but he has the Uniontown idea that it is the Center of Everything. He'll be getting the Uniontown habit next and telling us about the Chips that Pass in the Night.

Principal House seems to have the Smithfield School Board hypnotized.

The Board of Health is strong for vaccination. It has to handle and care for smallpox cases and fight the spread of the invader. Its members know what they are up against. The anti-vaccinationist does not know, but nobody wishes him harm enough to want him to find out.

Uniontown was a "coke" center, but of a very poor kind and even that doubtful honor is thought to have happily passed.

QUIET IN SCOTTDALE.

All of the Administration Councilmen Were Returned to Office.

NOT VERY HEAVY VOTE WAS OUT

Two Candidates Tied for a Two Year Term in Council, James C. Horne Winning on the Toss Up—The Vote in Mill Town in Detail.

SCOTTDALE, Feb. 20.—The election was a quiet one in Scottdale, the weather having a good deal to do in discouraging the voters from coming out, a very light vote being polled. In the First Ward the surprise of the day was the strength of Robert M. Young, Democrat, for School Director, who was beaten by A. C. Overholt, Republican, for School Director by only two votes, Overholt receiving 88 votes and Young 86. Thomas W. Porter, Republican, for re-election to Council, had a walk-away over his opponent, as did L. R. Eicher, Republican, in the Second Ward. A. P. Byrne, Republican, won with plenty of votes in the Third Ward. In the Fourth Ward, which is a very uncertain quantity, P. J. O'Connor, Democrat, was re elected to Council. James C. Horne, Republican, and E. J. Buttermore tied for the two-year term, and it was said last night that the toss won for Mr. Horne. All the present administration Councilmen were returned to Council. SCOTTDALE SCRAPS

Picked Up Around the Coke Region's Mill Town.

SCOTTDALE, Feb. 20.—There has been a growing influx of vagrants in town during the last few days and impudent beggars have been soliciting handouts at the various residential parts of town, much to the annoyance and frequently to the frightening of the women folk. Several of the fellows have been hewing their way along the business streets and the police are ready to make an example of some of the gentry. It has been quite a time since such a pest of tramps has assailed the town, and coincident with it some petty robberies have been reported during the past few days, although since last year about this time they have been extremely few.

Miss Katherine Murphy, of the millinery department of the J. S. Parker Company, has returned home from New York after a week in the millinery markets and attending openings.

William Gates, Jr., formerly of the engineering force of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, and now stationed in Pittsburg, spent Tuesday night in town.

W. L. Kelly was at Ligonier looking after his coal interests on Tuesday.

The case of the Borough vs. E. L. Rutherford was not reached on Tuesday at Greensburg and was to come up today.

W. W. Smith Thanks Friends.

I wish to thank my many friends for their loyal support yesterday. While not successful I have the satisfaction of a duty well done as a citizen of Connellsville. My platform was clean, decent politics, for honest government of the borough affairs. To the victors I wish success and they will have my loyal support for anything that will be for the good of Connellsville.

IN TYRONE.

John C. Brownfield Was Elected Justice of the Peace by a Nice Majority.

EVERSON, Feb. 20.—Special.]—There was a nice fight on for Justice of the Peace in Upper Tyrone township, but the veteran Democrat, John C. Brownfield, won out by a handsome majority over A. H. For the office of Road Supervisor there was a funny mixup George Strickler, who was elected, was nominated on the Democratic ticket as well as on the Republican. Dennis Grogan was next, but Thomas Carlton, the lowest man voted for by the Democrats through a mistake of the Election Board was certified to as the high man to the Commissioners and his name appeared on the ballot.

When the Wire Tires.

"Messages," said a telegraph operator, "always slide over the wires better on Monday than on any other day. The wires, you see, have profited by their Sunday rest. It is a fact that inanimate as well as animate things get tired and need a vacation occasionally. You know how true this is of razors, of automobiles, of locomotives, and it is just as true of telegraph wires. A wire after its Sunday rest gives a quicker, a fuller and a more delicate transmission. It is like a piano that has just been tuned."

FEMININE INFLUENCE.

Nowhere Is It More Felt and Less Recognized Than in France.

There is still in every Frenchman a great deal of the oriental way of looking at woman.

And the French wife knows it, but she goes on helping her "man," be she duchess or midinette. She will forgive again and again; she will let him squander her dot and will learn how to do with fewer frocks (the delight of every Frenchwoman) in an ever pitiful attempt to patch up the fortune and happiness he has wrecked. If she happen to be a shopman's wife he needs no bookkeeper or manager; she will be there from morning till night, the slave of the ledger, careful of every centime, while he, too, often will leave the heavier part of the business in her capable hands and turn his attention to a domino party at the nearest cafe. If she be a peasant's wife no one on the farm will slave harder than she. There is scarcely any labor which she will not undertake.

In every sphere woman is too often the man of the house. Nowhere is feminine influence more active, more felt and less recognized than in France, and nowhere among the civilized nations is man more dependent on woman, more attached to her and less respectful.—London Mail.

HOUSE IS RETAINED.

Smithfield School Board Decides to Retain Convicted Principal.

HAS APPLIED FOR NEW TRIAL.

Vote Was Four to Two for His Retention and Then It Was Made Unanimous—More Trouble Brewing in the Board.

SMITHFIELD, Feb. 19.—The School Board met last night at the call of A. C. Jones, President, with every member present. President Jones stated the object of the meeting was to take action on the case of F. R. House, who has been found guilty of aggravated assault and battery by a Westmoreland county jury. Principal House was present and tendered his resignation with the statement that he had applied for a new trial, which he felt confident would be granted, and he would be vindicated in the case. He called the Board's attention to the fact that if he was acquitted of the offense of which he is charged, that he could, if the Board dismissed him, have recourse against them for damages, but he said whether he was acquitted or convicted, he would take no action against the Board, but put himself in their hands and whatever action they took in the matter he would abide by their decision. After some preliminary remarks by members of the Board, a motion was made and seconded that the resignation be not accepted. After a discussion of the motion by every member of the Board the ayes and nays were called for. Then the Secretary called the roll in alphabetical order, each member voting as his name was called. The vote stood four ayes and two nays. After the vote was announced one of the members who had voted in the negative, made a motion to make it unanimous, this being seconded, a viva voice vote was taken and declared by a unanimous vote.

Just before the meeting opened for business, a pupil of Prof. House's room came in and laid a paper on the Secretary's desk which, being read by the Secretary, was a petition signed by every pupil of Prof. House's room, requesting the Board to retain House for the balance of the term. An article appearing in a Uniontown paper, written by a correspondent from Smithfield and signed "Citizen," reflecting on Mr. House's character and on that of some members of the School Board, served just the opposite purpose intended, and caused people that heretofore had taken no sides in this case, to denounce the author in no unmeasured tones.

Other business transacted was to take the preliminary step toward investigating a grave error in the printing of a course of study and rules and regulations of the school, and thereby hangs a tale which is closely connected with the House case. It may be the cause of a member being asked to resign.

Jerome Fordyce, the eccentric recluse of York Run, has gone back to his old Kentucky home on a mission of business.

T. L Beard of Nicholson township was in the borough yesterday taking orders for maple molasses, the product of his own camp. He says if the present weather conditions continue for a few days longer he will have the camp in full blast.

REDUCES ACCIDENTS.

Official Report of Fatalities in Hard Coal Regions Shows big Decrease For Past Year.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 20.—Fatal accidents in the anthracite mines in 1906 were 87 less than the preceding year, as shown by the returns to the State Department of Mines, the tabulation of which has just been completed. "Falls of Coal" is given as the cause of most of the accidents; explosions, mine cars and premature blasts account for the remainder.

The decrease of accidents is attributed to a greater care in safeguarding the miners, the establishment of first aid corps and insistence by mine managers upon observance of laws made to secure the safety of the men working underground.

The Mine Department says in its report that 58 per cent. of the accidents are "due to negligence, carelessness, recklessness and ignorance on the part of the victims." In addition to requirements made by the State, the operators are spending millions of dollars a year in safety appliances, and if miners can be induced to report overhead dangers promptly, as they are supposed to do, the principal cause of mine fatalities can be largely eliminated.

UP GOES COAL PRODUCT

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 19.—Mine Inspector Henry Louttit of the First Bituminous District has completed his report for 1906. It shows 9,039,185 tons were mined, an increase of 945,101 tons over the preceding year. Of this amount 2,786,995 tons was produced by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company; 1,953,617 by the Pittsburg Coal Company, 1,300,604 by the Ellsworth Coal Company, while the Pittsburg & Westmoreland Coal Company produced 1,033,346 tons.

The coke industry in the district almost trebled during the year, there being at present in operation 278 ovens as against 100 ovens in 1905. The number of fatal accidents was exactly the same as in 1905, namely 45. The non-fatal accidents were 152 in 1906, and 119 in 1905.

The CONQUEST OF CANAAN

By BOOTH TARKINGTON,
Author of "Cherry," "Monsieur Beaucaire," Etc.

Copyright 1905 by Harper & Brothers

CHAPTER XXI

THERE was meat for gossip a plenty in Canaan that afternoon and evening. There were rumors that ran from kitchen to parlor and rumors that ran from parlor to kitchen, speculations that detained housewives in talk across front gates, wonderings that held cooks in converse over shadeless back fences in spite of the heat, and canards that brought Main street clerks running to the shop doors to stare up and down the sidewalks.

Out of the confusion of report the judicious were able by evenfall to extract a fair history of this day of revolution. There remained no doubt that Joe Louden was in attendance at the deathbed of Eskew Arp, and somehow it came to be known that Colonel Flitcroft, Squire Buckalew and Peter Bradbury had shaken hands with Joe and declared themselves his friends. There were those, particularly among the relatives of the hoary trio, who expressed the opinion that the colonel and his comrades were too old to be responsible and a commission ought to sit on them. Nevertheless some echoes of Eskew's last "argument" to the conclave had sounded in the town and were not wholly without effect.

Everywhere there was a nipping curiosity to learn how Judge Pike had taken the strange performance of his daughter, and the eager were much disappointed when it was truthfully reported that he had done and said very little. He had merely discharged both Sam Warden and Sam's wife from his service, the mild manner of the dismissal almost mystifying Mr. Warden, although he was fully prepared for bird shot, and the couple had found immediate employment in the service of Ariel Tabor.

Those who humanly felt the judge's behavior to be a trifle flat and unsensational were recompensed late in the afternoon when it became known that Eugene Bantry had resigned his position on the Tocsin. His reason for severing his connection was dumfounding. He had written a formal letter to the judge and repeated the gist of it to his associates in the office and acquaintances upon the street. He declared that he no longer sympathized with the attitude of the Tocsin toward his stepbrother and regretted that he had previously assisted in emphasizing the paper's hostility to Joe, particularly in the matter of the approaching murder trial. This being the case, he felt that his effectiveness in the service of the paper had ceased and he must in justice to the owner resign.

"Well, I'm cursed!" was the simple comment of the elder Louden when his stepson sought him out at the factory and repeated this statement to him.

"So am I, I think," said Eugene wanly. "Goodby. I'm going now to see mother, but I'll be gone before you come home."

"Gone where?"

"Just away. I don't know where," Eugene answered from the door. "I couldn't live here any longer. I—"

"You've been drinkin'," said Mr. Louden, surprised. "You'd better not let Mamie see you!"

Eugene laughed shortly. "I don't mean to. I shall write to her. Goodby." He rushed and was gone before Mr. Louden could restore enough order out of the chaos in his mind to stop him.

Thus Mr. Louden's long wait at the window was fruitlessly rewarded, and she became an unhappy actor in Canaan drama of that day. Other ladies attended at other windows or near their front doors throughout the afternoon—the families of the three patriarchs, waiting their return as the time drew on with something akin to frenzy. Mrs. Flitcroft, a lady of temper whose rheumatism confined her to a chair, had her grandson wheel her out upon the porch, and as the dusk fell and she finally saw her husband coming at a laggard pace, leaning upon his cane, his chin sunk on his breast, she frankly told Norbert that although she had lived with that man fifty-seven years she would never be able to understand him. She repeated this with genuine symptoms of hysteria when she discovered that the colonel had not come straight from the Tabor house, but had stopped two hours at Peter Bradbury's to "talk it over."

One item of his recital, while sufficiently startling to his wife, had a dramatic effect upon his grandson. This was the information that Ariel Tabor's fortune no longer existed.

"What's that?" cried Norbert, starting to his feet. "What are you talking about?"

"It's true," said the colonel deliberately. "She told me so herself. Eskew had dropped off into a sort of doze—more like a stupor perhaps—and we all went into Roger's old studio except Louden and the doctor, and while we were there talking one of Pike's clerks came with a basket full of tin boxes and packages of papers and talked to Miss Tabor at the door and went away. Then old Peter blundered out and asked her point blank what it was, and she said it was her estate, almost everything she had except the house. Buckalew tried to make a joke; said he'd be willing to swap his house and lot for the basket, and she laughed and told him she thought he'd be sorry, that all there was to speak of was a pile of distillery stock—"

"What?" repeated Norbert incredulously.

"Yes. It was the truth," said the colonel solemnly. "I saw it myself. Blocks and blocks of stock in that distillery trust that went up higher 'n a kite last year. Roger had put all of Jonas' good money"—

"Not into that!" shouted Norbert uncontrollably excited.

"Yes, he did. I tell you I saw it!"

"I tell you he didn't. He owned Granger gas worth more today than it ever was. Pike was Roger's attorney in fact and bought it for him before the old man died. The check went through my hands. You don't think I'd forget as big a check as that, do you, even if it was more than a year ago? Or how it was signed and who made out to? It was Martin Pike that got caught with distillery stock. He speculated once too often!"

"No, you're wrong," persisted the colonel. "I tell you I saw it myself."

"Then you're blind," returned his grandson disrespectfully; "you're blind or else—or else—" He paused, open mouthed, a look of wonder struggling its way to expression upon him, gradually conquering every knobby outpost of his countenance. He struck his fat hands together. "Where's Joe Louden?" he asked sharply. "I want to see him. Did you leave him at Miss Tabor's?"

"He's goin' to sit up with Eskew. What do you want of him?"

"I should say you better ask that," Mrs. Flitcroft began shrilly. "It's enough, I guess, for one of this family to go runnin' after him and shakin' hands with him and heaven knows what not! Norbert Flitcroft!"

But Norbert jumped from the porch, ruthlessly crossed his grandmother's geranium bed and, making off at as sharp a pace as his architecture permitted, within ten minutes opened Ariel's gate.

Sam Warden came forward to meet him.

"Don't ring, please, suh," said Sam. "Dey sot me out heah to tell inquirin' frien's dat po' ole Mist' Arp mighty lo'."

"I want to see Mr. Louden," returned Norbert. "I want to see him immediately."

"I don' reckon he kin come out yit," Sam said in a low tone. "But I kin go in an' ast him."

He stepped softly within, leaving Norbert waiting, and went to the door of the sickroom. The door was open, the room brightly lighted, as Eskew had commanded when, a little earlier, he awoke.

Joe and Ariel were alone with him, leaning toward him with such white anxiety that the colored man needed no warning to make him remain silent in the hallway. The veteran was speaking, and his voice was very weak, seeming to come from a great distance.

"It's mighty funny, but I feel like I used to when I was a little boy. I reckon I'm kind of scared—after all. Ariel Tabor—are you—here?"

"Yes, Mr. Arp."

"I bought—so—but I—I don't see very well—lately. I—wanted—to—know—to know—"

"Yes—to know?" She knelt close beside him.

"It's kind of—foolish," he whispered. "I just—wanted to know if you was still here. It—don't seem so lonesome, now that I know."

She put her arm lightly about him, and he smiled and was silent for a time, then he struggled to rise upon his elbow, and they lifted him a little.

"Yes."

"You'd have been—willing—willing to change places with me just now—with Ariel."

Joe laid his hand on his, and Eskew smiled again. "I thought so. And Joe—"

"Yes."

"You always—always had the—the best of that joke between us. Do you

—you suppose they charge admission—up there?" His eyes were lifted. "Do you suppose you've got to—to show your good deeds to git in?" The answering whisper was almost as faint as the old man's.

"No," panted Eskew, "nobody knows. But I hope—I do hope they'll have some free seats. It's a—mighty poor show we'll—all have—if they—don't."

He sighed peacefully, his head grew heavier on Joe's arm, and the young man set his hand gently upon the unseeing eyes. Ariel did not rise from where she knelt, but looked up at him when a little later he lifted his hand.

"Yes," said Joe, "you can cry now."

More Kioto Silk at 35c Yd.

About two weeks ago we advertised a lot of Kioto Silk at the special price of 35c a yard. The response to this advertisement was so unanimous that we feel justified in repeating the particulars about this silk fabric.

It is light weight and clinging in texture, a Summer fabric par excellence. We can imagine nothing prettier or more inexpensive for dressy frocks for young girls.

The Regular Price is 50c Yd.

but we were fortunate in our purchase and are thus enabled to offer it for a full 15c below the rightful value.

Shown in delicate evening colors in red, black and in small tasteful designs.

The Lion and the Mouse

By Arthur Hornblow.

As a rule it is the play which is dramatized after the novel, but this is a case of Charles Klein's great play being novelized.

The story, like the play, belongs to this very minute. It is full of the feeling and spirit that are in the air today. It is an exciting and absorbing narrative and promises to become the most talked of book of the year.

A COMPROMISE

UNIONTOWN, Feb. 19.—The County Commissioners and delegation from Springhill township and Pt. Marion returned last evening from a conference in Pittsburg with Colonel Sibert of the United States Engineering Corps relative to the erection of the new county bridge across the Cheat river at Pt. Marion. Colonel Sibert had insisted that the new bridge be built 10 feet higher than the B. & O. bridge near the same point.

At the conference a compromise was effected. The middle span of the new bridge, about 200 feet long, is to be 10 feet higher than the B. & O. bridge, but the other spans will be constructed at an angle which will not make it necessary to step to it. The bridge will be about 900 feet long.

The Knock-out Blow.

The blow which knocked out Corbett was a revelation to the prize fighters. From the earliest days of the ring the knock-out blow was aimed for the jaw, the temple or the jugular vein. Stomach punches were thrown in to worry and weary the fighter, but if a scientific man had told one of the old fighters that the most vulnerable spot was the region of the stomach, he'd have laughed at him for an ignoramus. Dr. Pierce is bringing home to the public a parallel fact; that the stomach is the most vulnerable organ out of the prize ring as well as in it. We protect our heads, throats, feet and lungs, but the stomach we are utterly indifferent to until disease finds the solar plexus and knocks us out. Make your stomach sound and strong by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and you protect yourself in your most vulnerable spot. "Golden Medical Discovery" cures "weak stomach," indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, bad, thin and impure blood and other diseases of the organs of digestion and nutrition.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has a specific curative effect upon all mucous surfaces and hence cures catarrh, no matter what its location or what stage it may have reached. In Nasal Catarrh it is well to cleanse the passages with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy fluid while using the "Discovery" as a constitutional remedy. Why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrhal diseases, as of the stomach, bowels, bladder and other pelvic organs will be plain to you if you will read a booklet of extracts from the writings of eminent medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients and explaining their curative properties. It is mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This booklet gives all the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines from which it will be seen that they contain not a drop of alcohol, pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead.

VOTE IN TOWNSHIP.

Not Much Interest Was Taken in the Election There Tuesday.

WHAT THE CANDIDATES RECEIVED

Republicans Were Generally Successful and the Socialists Polled a Good Vote All Around.

Little interest was displayed in the elections of Connellsville township. The Republicans made practically a clean sweep of everything in sight with the exception of a Judge of Election and Assessor in No. 2. The Republicans also landed in No. 1 getting about everything in sight.

Modern Woman

Where Women Did Not "Become Hysterical"—Two Level Headed Girls Save Thirty Others From Being Burned to Death

A fire burst forth in a big candy factory in New York city. On the fifth and sixth floors of the building thirty girls were at work. There is either a sheep or a savage in every undeveloped human being—in woman unfortunately too often the sheep. A crazy panic started among the sheep women in that factory and they rushed to the windows and were actually idiots enough to be about to jump out and be dashed to death down six stories. There were two young girls there though who were not sheep but developed human beings. These two rushed from window to window calling "Don't jump girls! We'll get down by the fire escape!" They caught the feminine sheep by the skirts and held them back from jumping. Instinctively the sheep recognized their leaders and the panic stopped. Then the two human beings among the sheep led the way to the fire escape and saw the frightened creatures one by one descend the fire ladders to the ground. Flames and smoke were pouring out of the windows from every door as they passed down. "Wrap your skirts around your heads as you go down girls" was the order given to the sheep by the two who kept their heads on. The sheep obeyed and were thus saved as they went down from being scorched or from breathing the smoke and flame. Last of all the two girls who had proved themselves developed human beings went down the fire escape too. Splendid cheers greeted them as they landed. It was a noble exhibition of feminine presence of mind only the newspaper young men were quite cheated out of their favorite headline announcing that "The Women Became Hysterical."

* *

I have found out when people begin to get old. It is when they cease to learn anything new.

* *

I have been much interested in reading of the woman's colony being established in Refugio county Tex by Mary I. Haydon. She has already bought there a tract of 5,000 acres farm orchard and gardening land to be distributed among 1,000 women more or less. The women may have husbands if they so desire but all the farms must be in the women's names and women must have the management of the colony affairs forever. Why not? Men have had the management of all public affairs since history began and the mess they have made of them proves it is time now for women to have a chance. The leaders of the enterprise will try to get the Texas legislature to grant suffrage to the colonists. One of the commendable features of this woman scheme is that it admits men as residents though not as bosses of the colony.

* *

Note what W. C. Whitney said in Washington when he was secretary of the navy: "I don't believe there is a job in this city from the president down that some woman cannot fill—and doubtless will some day."

* *

A prominent London club contained one member noted for his gossip and base innuendoes concerning women in English society. Most men scandal mongers excel women when they set their heads to the slandering business, but this one in London was most particularly virulent. Some of the club members who remonstrated had their mothers were women investigated and found the scandal monger was retailing lies of his own invention. They permitted him to resign which really was considerate of them then watching when he departed twenty of them lined up on the stairs and each gave him a parting kick to speed him on his way. Probably that man will talk no more about women.

* *

It is conceded that the best art photographers in this country are women. Some of them receive very large sums of money for their artistic photographs.
